A GUIDE TO FOOTBALL IN SCHOOLS

Football is our national game, one that has the potential to ignite and fascinate millions of people across the world and is often a young person's first chosen sport.

They may become a professional or amateur player, referee, coach or armchair fan of the future. You have the privileged position of being part of that journey.

Mini-Soccer offers an introduction to the game of football at a size and scale that meets the needs of the young people playing – with smaller goals and pitches and less players per team.

Part of The FA's National Game Strategy is to develop 'Better Players' and it believes that Mini-Soccer is the most appropriate format to do this for younger children followed by phased learning for children as they get older.

This is supported by academic research from around the world on the value of small-sided games for improving technique and skills.

Mini-Soccer allows children to have a fun, enjoyable introduction to football in an environment that affords lots of touches, shots, dribbles and ultimately more involvement and enjoyment in the game.

OUR CHALLENGE AS ADULTS IS SIMPLE - TO HELP YOUNG PEOPLE FALL IN LOVE WITH THE GAME

Adults involved in developing the playing environment for children need to recognise their role is to facilitate this; to enable young people to have fun, make new friends and learn the game.

A ten-year-old child is not half a 20-year-old and they need a game and format that replicates their stage of development.

For too long we have had Year 6 children playing on the same size pitches as 26-year-old internationals and goalkeepers defending the same size goal as Premier League adults.

We have to find a way to make youth football more child-friendly and The FA believes 9v9 addresses these challenges in the pathway to playing the adult version of the game.

If they start this journey captivated by the experience, this makes their chances of getting better skyrocket!

Our job is to provide that experience for children.

MINI-SOCCER: MEETING THE NEEDS OF CHILDREN

The main theme throughout Mini-Soccer is to meet the needs of children and eleven-a-side football does not meet their needs.

Children need a modified game that fits their age and stage of learning and too often it's the children who are modified to meet the requirements of a game.

Mini-Soccer modifies football without losing the essence of the game, which is important for children and therefore is the appropriate introduction to the game.

All available research and observations show that children will have more fun and learn more playing a game with smaller teams and modified rules.

Mini-Soccer is a game children can actually play rather than struggling to understand a game created for adults.

IF CHILDREN ARE TO ENJOY AND TAKE PART IN FOOTBALL THEY NEED TO:

- Feel success
- Develop life skills such as self-esteem, listening and communication
- Learn movement skills that underpin all games and activities
- Take an active part in the game
- Form relationships and work together
- Develop their football skills and get better
- Be able to take part whatever their ability
- Appreciate and demonstrate good sportsmanship
- Understand the Laws.

Mini-Soccer aims to set realistic expectations. It focuses on the development of children rather than the result of the match.

Children need to learn that co-operation is vital. The joys that being part of a team can bring, make football a fantastic and exciting game that can teach those skills.

BENEFITS OF 9V9

As with Mini-Soccer, the main theme throughout 9v9 is to meet the needs of younger children and eleven-a-side football does not meet those needs.

Children need a modified game that fits their age and stage of learning and too often it's the children who are modified to meet the requirements of a game.

This modified version of football maintains the integrity of the game without losing the essence of the game, which is important for children.

All available research and observations show that children will have more fun and learn more playing a game with smaller teams and modified rules.

9v9 is a game that supports progression of their learning, not taking them from a child's experience in Mini-Soccer at U10 straight into an adult's version of the game at Year 6.

“FIVE MINUTES AFTER THE GAME I'M OK IF WE'VE LOST”

U12, South West

Additionally, 9v9 offers:

- A 'real' football experience
- Introduction to additional roles and responsibilities of being a player
- An environment that allows the development of 'game understanding'
- More practice time to develop skills appropriate to the modern game
- Develops shooting and finishing skills in a challenging goal size
- Allows the goalkeeper a realistic chance of saving shots.

And importantly, 9v9 offers:

- A football experience not based on requiring bigger, stronger, faster players for success!

9v9 aims to set realistic expectations that meet the needs of young people, not those of adults. It focuses on the development of children rather than the result of the match.

For their future lives, children need to learn the joys that being part of a team can bring and that co-operation is vital. Football is a fantastic game that can teach those skills.

Therefore, this format is a phased development for their learning, starting to teach them about roles and responsibilities of different positions on a football pitch, without shattering their self-confidence trying to defend an adult-sized goal or running them into the ground on an over-sized pitch!

WHY DO CHILDREN PLAY?

Our role as adults is to facilitate a learning environment that enables children to play football and fall in love with the game.

However, when you listen to young children talk about why they play football the reasons they provide are often different from those that adults assume.

Adult values and children's values are quite different about what they want from their football experience.

Research from children also indicates that through the primary school age group and up to 11/12 they are not focused on winning the league and they state that trophies and medals are not that important to them.

The six factors highlighted are much more important to them in the scheme of the reasons why young people play football.

The challenge for spectators and teachers is to ensure the learning environment created for children when they come to play football is one that matches their expectations, not the adults' version.

If we get this right it can be a fun, exciting and social experience for all involved!

The FA has conducted research with groups of children across the whole country and the top six reasons why children play football are highlighted below:

- Trying my hardest is more important to me than winning
- I love playing football because it's fun
- It helps keep me fit and healthy
- I like meeting new friends through football
- It's a really good game and I love it
- I like playing with my friends.

WHAT CAN CHILDREN EXPECT FROM ADULTS?

Remember that children are often easily led, anxious to please and prone to over-enthusiasm, and so plenty of praise and positive reinforcement is needed – especially for beginners.

Children find it hard to understand negative instructions and easier to understand positive reinforcement. This can frequently mean playing down the result and playing up the performance.

This reduces the child's anxiety and decreases their worry about failing. Remember that children do not mean to make mistakes; we should accept mistakes as a necessary part of learning.

Whilst it might appear that playing 5v5 involves fewer children than 7v7, the reality is increased touches, shots and involvement in the game is better for their development and enjoyment.

Some schools have had success in taking two teams to play another school now instead of one and finding that taking 12 children and having five substitutes can now be ten children playing in 5v5 and only two off the pitch.

With regards to managing the matches, why not involve young leaders from Year 10 upwards, support developing their officiating skills in a learner-friendly environment.

You will often find that the children can manage the game themselves most of the time and just need an adult there to make sure they are ok!

BUILD CONFIDENCE:

- Positive encouragement – providing this really helps the kids!
- Learning from mistakes – no mistake is done deliberately so see them as an opportunity to learn
- Reward effort rather than ability – this helps build confidence and self-esteem
- Model appropriate behaviour – children will often copy the way the coach behaves
- Constructive feedback – try and put these comments between some positive feedback
- Understanding the implications of fixed and growth mindset's (Carol Dweck) when teaching and learning.

REMEMBER THAT CHILDREN DO NOT MEAN TO MAKE MISTAKES; WE SHOULD ACCEPT MISTAKES AS A NECESSARY PART OF LEARNING

RESPECT THE GAME:

- Play by the Rules
- Respect opponents, officials and all others involved in the game
- Work together as a team and co-operate.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR SUCCESS:

- Success through effort
- New skill development
- Making and learning from mistakes
- Set children individual targets.

WORKING WITH PARENTS

The most influential people in terms of a child's psychological and sociological development are his or her parents. A child's beliefs, values, perceptions, attitudes and goals are shaped by their home influences and have a profound effect in later life.

Evidence suggests that interest and support from the home are vital in a child's overall development. With this evidence, engaging parents in the learning experience of their children, if guided and educated correctly can lead to positive effects in reinforcing messages of support you offer to the young people during the time you have with them.

Working with parents should be seen as a three-way process, between you, the child and the parent.

Just as you will involve them in the ongoing learning of their child, by creating an environment for the child (and parent), you will provide them both with a much greater understanding of what the common goal is.

Longer term the parents will hopefully begin to reinforce powerful messages and ultimately see that playing football is a vital learning experience.

A good way to reinforce this is by referring them to the 'FA Four Corner' model (see page 23).

GOOD PRACTICE:

- Talk to the parents before/after matches or clubs and explain what you are doing and why you are doing it; explain the benefits
- When holding a parents' evening, discuss how they are getting on with PE, after-school clubs and school fixtures
- Set them basic tasks if they come to watch matches – this could be asking for support around setting out equipment or keeping a record of playing time for you
- Direct them towards FA online courses to help develop their knowledge too!

One big piece of evidence from the research from children was that they don't like being embarrassed by adults.

So you know that moan you often have, the flailing arms and negative body language when they make a mistake – they see that!

FOOD FOR THOUGHT:

With child development in mind, if 'we' would like children to develop an understanding of the game as well as an ability to problem solve, then 'we' have a duty to let them think for themselves from time to time.

LESS INPUT FROM THE SIDELINES =

SOME QUESTIONS YOU COULD ASK YOUR PARENTS:

Do your actions on game day...

- demonstrate trust in the teacher?
- centre around the child's needs?
- help or confuse the children?

FACILITIES

An important aspect of helping young people to learn about playing football is to ensure the size of the pitch is appropriate to their age and stage of development.

Whilst we may not have existing 5v5 pitches permanently marked out at the right size it is worthwhile adults gaining a perspective on the issue.

This is a game of football for six and seven-year-old children, not the World Cup Final!

All the Premier League teams play within coned-off areas every day in training so if this works for them then it is fine for the children to learn the game within.

The pitch doesn't have to be perfectly marked out like Wembley and adults need to try and move away from that mindset.

In an ideal world and wherever possible, this would be marked out with lines and fixed goals but if the pitch needs to be organised using cones/flat markers and portable goals, or drawn within another pitch area, then great!

If you are having trouble with finding pitches or grass space, please contact the County Development Manager at your local County FA.

It is their job is to assist you with these kind of challenges and support you with finding funding streams to go towards the cost of developing facilities.

GOOD PRACTICE:

- Find a piece of grass the appropriate size
- Maybe look at using a 3G pitch or commercial provider as a venue
- Put up the Respect barrier for the parents to stand behind
- Mark out a small technical area for the teachers/ coaches and subs near the halfway line to stand within
- Use flat markers to highlight the goal area to help the goalkeepers
- Move the portable goals to the right place
- Let the subs from both schools play a 2v2/3v3 on a piece of grass next to the main pitch or engage them in a match-related learning task?

FACILITIES FOR 9V9

Options for pitches:

- Mark blue lines on an existing 11v11 pitch
- Play box-to-box on an existing pitch and cone in the touchlines
- Use a central venue to which all schools travel to play
- Not all teams need a home pitch – can three pitches cover six schools?
- Use a 3G pitch funded through the Football Foundation
- Work with local Independent Schools, many of whom have great facilities
- Do a playing pitch survey in your town; are there too many 11v11 and not enough youth pitches?
- Work with the County Development Manager at your local County FA.

We cannot allow the future generation of English football to be defined and led by groundsmen!

People said in 1999 that Mini-Soccer wouldn't work but those with a positive attitude have made this happen.

Not having the right size pitch might be a challenge in the short-term when implementing something new but this is about the future of English football for the next fifteen to twenty years, the long-term game!

MANAGING THE MATCH DAY ENVIRONMENT

Football is a passionate game and all of us can get swept up in the moment. However it is possible for schools to manage the match day environment in such a way as to clearly signpost which behaviours are acceptable and unacceptable.

A TEAM PHILOSOPHY

Establishing a team philosophy is a good way to agree with the players, teachers/coaches and parents how you are going to work together to ensure that there is harmony within.

By doing this when things 'go wrong' you can refer back to what was agreed at the start and use this as a mediator when a situation arises.

Depending upon age, maturity and local considerations your philosophy may differ from that of another team/club, however, the key should be putting the child at the centre of the philosophy.

You may wish to consider the following:

- Communication channels
- Time keeping
- Playing time
- Substitutions and who starts the game
- Sharing responsibilities
- Winning at all costs v development of the players
- Agreeing a philosophy against The FA's Four Corner LTPD model
- The Respect Programme codes of conduct.

“WE ONLY LISTEN TO OUR MANAGER, EVEN WHEN PARENTS SHOUT STUFF AT THE SAME TIME AS HIM. HE IS THE MANAGER, NOT THEM.”

U9, Yorkshire

Respect

Suggest staging a parents' meetings where you can provide guidance on the practicalities of playing for the school but also agree a meaningful and shared code of conduct? Your local County FA will have resources to support you to hold a parents' meeting.

- Display the school's "Games" Code of Conduct for everyone attending to see
- Pass a laminated version down the line of spectators for all to read
- Put up a Respect sign on the school so people can see this is what you believe in
- Put the teachers'/coaches' technical areas on the opposite side to the spectators
- Mark out a technical area for the teacher to stand within 3yds either side of the halfway line – there is no need for them to run up and down the touchline too!
- Let the subs play a little 2v2 match if there is some spare grass next to the pitch
- Designate an area for the spectators to stand and watch the game. This should be a minimum of 3yds from the touchline on both sides of the pitch and run the full length of the pitch
- No spectators should be allowed behind the goal – it puts off the goalkeeper
- Manage other pupils that might be watching appropriately along these measures too.

To help implement the Designated Spectators' Area, The FA has endorsed a Respect Barrier Kit which is available from www.Touchlinelogos.com

“THERE IS NO NEED
FOR THEM TO RUN UP
AND DOWN THE TOUCHLINE TOO!”

DEALING WITH DIFFICULT SPECTATORS

Where large numbers of spectators are expected schools should consider the use of a touchline manager – someone designated to help maintain a supportive playing environment, which could be another pupil linked to leadership training.

Some schools have equipped touchline managers with a Respect bib which has increased their visibility and assisted them.

It is not the role of the touchline manager to replace the referee or the normal school sanctions and they should never place themselves or others in danger.

Remember: your role as a teacher or coach is to set a good example to all others involved in the game.

Whilst the referee, sometimes a younger referee learning the game too, will make mistakes and there may be decisions that you disagree with, try not to lose sight of the whole experience and ethos.

Talk to your children/parents about referees and explain that:

- They are learning the game and will make unintentional mistakes
- Playing to the whistle is part of the game
- Not shouting at the referee helps make it more enjoyable for everyone
- Being polite when talking to the referee is important
- Shaking hands after the game, regardless of the score, is the right thing to do.

MATCH DAY TIPS FOR TEACHERS

Most importantly, ensure that you don't overload your children with lots of information.

Before the game you may just want to set a couple of basic targets for the children to achieve.

Just before the kick off remind the children what the targets were again and possibly ask the substitutes to watch the game and see if they are achieving them.

The focus at half time can now be on whether the children have completed the tasks.

Get the substitutes to help feed this back.

It will almost certainly be a more powerful message coming from them rather than you.

After the game, think of the different ways that you can use to debrief the children.

Once again refer back to the targets you set the children and link these into what actually happened during the game.

You may want to arrange the children into small groups and ask them to debrief amongst themselves then feedback to other small groups.

Good practice:

- Remember to use age appropriate language
- Get the attention of your players before speaking
- Keep it simple
- Be positive at all times
- Focus on the most important aspects
- Give clear instructions to your children
- Always finish with a positive
- Don't forget they are just children, not professional footballers!

TECHNICAL

Play children in different positions during different periods of the game if they are happy to do so.

Allow children to learn as much of the game for themselves as they can but be prepared to support their learning needs when necessary.

The constant shouting of instruction from the touchline is not only unnecessary but usually extremely unhelpful to the children.

Play different formations and sometimes allow the children to help pick these.

Allow children to take on different roles during lessons and matches.

SOCIAL

Allow the children to be involved in decision making processes.

Give the children ownership, trust and responsibility.

If the children do something well, praise them. If they make a mistake, they didn't do it on purpose, so offer some words of encouragement or help.

PSYCHOLOGICAL

Allow the children to learn from their mistakes and their successes.

Let the children experiment, practice and compete while making their own decisions.

Ensure that you cater for different learning styles during your team talk – try using a white board or get children to stand in the formation.

PHYSICAL

Incorporate generic movements (agility, balance and coordination) into your warm up.

Allow children to play on different sides of the pitch, sometimes on the left and sometimes on the right.

Use tag and chase games, handball and 2v2/3v3 games as part of your warm up.

Avoid having the children standing in lines or waiting, try and get them active as much as possible.

Allow older children to lead the warm up and starter activities as part of their development.

MINI-SOCCER AND 9V9

Having smaller numbers doesn't necessarily mean fewer players get to participate. With clever ways of engaging more people it can have greater impact on development.

For example:

- Why not use young leaders in older age groups in secondary schools to help run the teams? Many of them will be going through leadership courses of some description and need valuable experience supporting the running of teams.
- Link in with a Level 2 Award in Leadership through Football and provide students doing Unit 3 an opportunity to run a team? Those doing Unit 2 could also help out with refereeing.
- Why not look at developing closer links with community sports clubs and bring in their coaches to support running teams? Many of them will be looking to bring in new players and this can make the transition from school to club sport.
- Do the children need a referee per game? Ideally, yes, and this could be a young leader as above, but really they just need an adult on hand to make sure they are safe. Most of them will know the rules and can manage the game themselves.

“I DON'T LIKE BEING TOLD I'VE HAD A STINKER!”

U10, East Midlands

DON'T FORGET

This is the children's game, it is their time to learn, try new things and have fun with their friends.

Just because the match is not part of a league doesn't make the children any less competitive – they still go out there and try their hardest to win.

Try not to put any additional pressure on the winning aspect for the children – they are already trying to do this and then don't want to be made to feel bad or embarrassed if they make a mistake or do something that affects the outcome of the game.

Focus on the learning and development, the things that went well and the things they could improve on next time.

Trust us, they will be bothered about the score for a much shorter time than you are!

DEVELOPING TALENTED CHILDREN

Many children aspire to be professional footballers and sometimes adults build the pressure on young children much too soon without understanding the environment that is needed to foster talent.

The following factors are the research, principles and tools upon which high quality talent development is built:

BEING 'CHILD CENTRED'

A teacher who is totally focused on talent development puts the child first; their needs are paramount. Too many competition structures, training programmes, coaching methods and practice schedules have been set to suit those who administer and run them rather than those who participate.

For talent to be truly nurtured these systems require review, children's needs are assessed and changes made to ensure that every young person has the best network of people supporting them as they attempt to achieve their potential.

USING 'THE 'C' SYSTEM' TO DEVELOP THE WHOLE CHILD

Developing talent should be about developing the whole person not just their skills and techniques.

Using the 'C' system can help teachers, parents and organisers to keep their eyes on the progress of all aspects of their development.

Core aspects of the 'C' system include:

COMPETENCE

Developing the children's abilities in all aspects of their sport.

CONFIDENCE

Sport develops confidence if delivered well. A confident child performs better so this is an area that should always be referred to when developing young players.

CREATIVITY

The children should be in charge of their own development and should be allowed to come up with their own solutions. Children have been shown to be more creative than adults but often their creativity is stifled through well-meaning adults wanting to show them the 'proper' way.

CONNECTION AND CARING

Children should be encouraged to be competitive but they should also be taught to look after each other. Getting children to be in touch with one another's needs helps to develop teamwork and leadership skills.

CHARACTER

Sport can develop a child's character and teach them valuable life lessons that will be important to their future development.

'DELIBERATE PLAY' AND 'TEACHING GAMES FOR UNDERSTANDING (TGfU)'

There has been research which suggests that 'Deliberate Play' and 'Teaching Games for Understanding' (TGfU) should be a big part of a child's sporting experience.

Both Deliberate Play and TGfU involves fun semi-competitive games and challenges that stretch the child's skills and require them to make rapid adaptations to succeed at the activity.

Both approaches require the children to make decisions and develop skills in a game-like context which has been shown to develop their skills more effectively than the traditional 'drill-based' approach alone.

The FA has adopted game forms with reduced numbers at younger ages to encourage youngsters to get a lot of touches of the ball and develop their skills more effectively in line with these approaches.

'SPECIALISATION' – VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE

Specialisation is the point at which a player is encouraged to focus attention on a specific sport and begin the process of developing the skills of that sport over others.

Often children are encouraged by competition organisers, parents, coaches, talent scouts and others to specialise in a specific sporting domain too early. Sport is particularly prone to this phenomenon.

Young children who display ability at a young age are encouraged to play and practice to the exclusion of other activities in the pursuit of achieving world stardom.

Specialising too early in sports has been shown to contribute to:

- Athletic deficiencies
- Overuse injuries
- Early burnout and dropout
- Unhappy children

Adults need to be patient with children, recognise they all grow at different rates and learning occurs at varied speeds too.

Don't forget, little children today won't always be little and some may appear 'excellent' today because of a short-term physical advantage.

Can you spot and foster the development potential?

‘PHYSICAL LITERACY’ – NOT TRYING TO RUN BEFORE WE CAN WALK!

Physical Literacy is best described as ‘the building blocks of movement’. By this we mean a series of fundamental movements and skills that underpin all sporting activity in one way or another. Examples of these movements include:

OBJECT CONTROL SKILLS

Sending

Kicking, rolling a ball, striking an object, throwing

Receiving

Catching, stopping, trapping

Travelling

Dribbling with either feet, hands or stick

Receiving and sending

Striking a moving ball with bat or stick, volleying

TRAVELLING SKILLS

Climbing, hopping, jumping, running, skipping

BODY MANAGEMENT SKILLS

Balancing/centering, dodging, stopping, stretching, twisting and turning

Without these basic movement skills, a young person’s capacity to fully develop their skills may be affected. Many elite performance programmes are working hard to try and rectify physical or technical problems in players which could have been solved earlier in the player’s athletic life by the development of sound physical literacy.

THE FA LAWS FOR MINI-SOCCER YEAR 2 TO YEAR 6 – 5V5 AND 7V7

This guide provides the Laws for Year 2 and Year 3 versions of the game, with children playing a maximum of 5v5.

It also provides the Laws for Year 4 and Year 5 of the game, with children playing a maximum of 7v7.

These Laws are also correct for Year 6 when playing 7v7.

These are short-term experiences helping children learn about winning and losing in an appropriate environment.

	Competition	From Season Date	New Rules
Year 2	No season-long league tables	2013/14	Short-term competitions lasting two weeks (three per season)
Year 3	No season-long league tables	2013/14	Short-term competitions lasting two weeks (three per season)
Year 4	No season-long league tables	2013/14	Short-term competitions lasting four weeks (three per season)
Year 5	No season-long league tables	2014/15	Short-term competitions lasting four weeks (three per season)
Year 6	No season-long league tables	2015/16	Short-term competitions lasting six weeks (three per season)

The winners of these events can be published and trophies can be presented.

Except where other provision in these Laws is made, the Laws of Association Football apply.

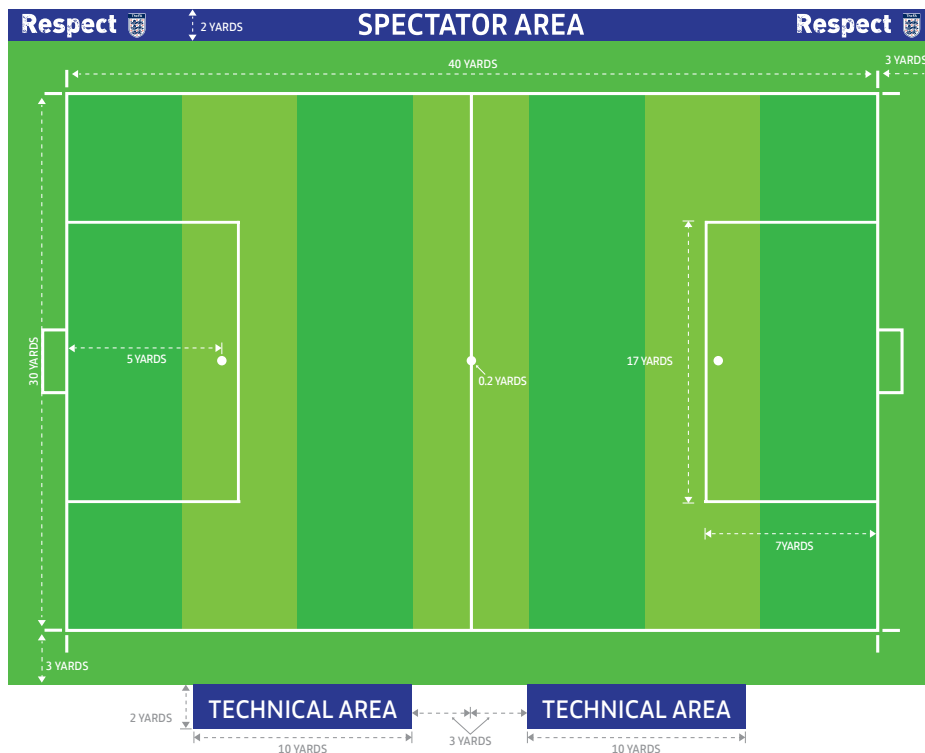

Each Law is numbered to correspond with the appropriate Law of the Game.

These Laws are mandatory unless special permission is granted by The FA.

LAW 1

PLAYING AREA

5V5 PITCH MARKINGS

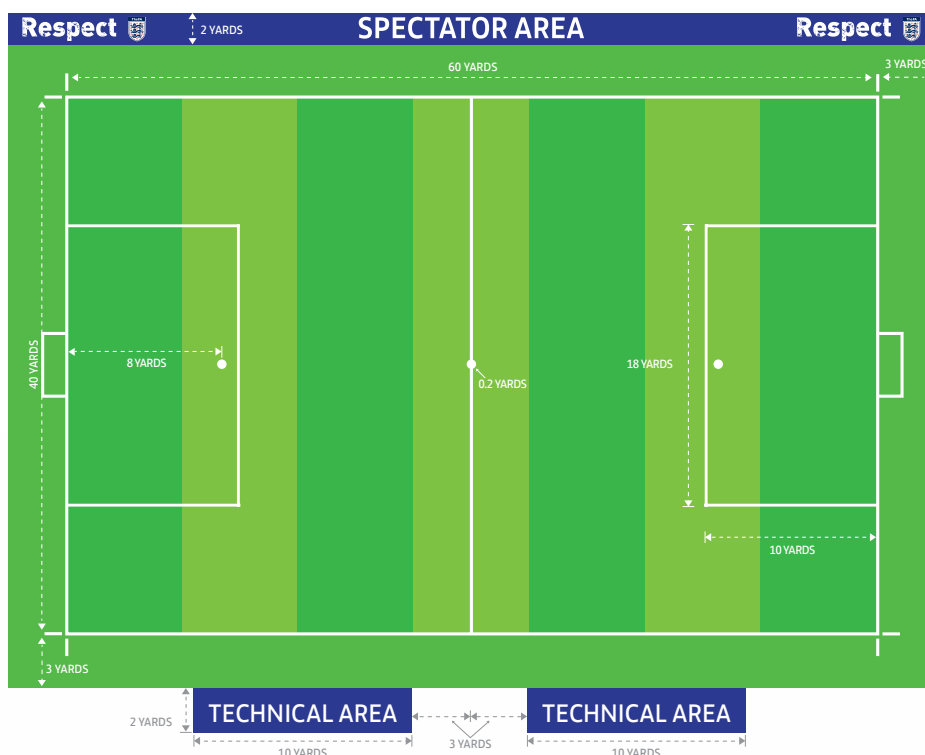

Halfway Line

The field of play is divided into two halves by a halfway line. The centre mark is indicated at the mid-point of the halfway line. This is also used as the retreat line when restarting play with a goal kick.

Goal Size

The distance between the posts is 12ft and the distance between the lower edge of the cross bar and the ground is 6ft.

7V7 PITCH MARKINGS

Please note:

If the Year 6s are playing 7v7 it is permissible to play with 16x7 goals too, based on the age of the child, not the format.

LAW 2

THE BALL

The ball should be size three for Year 1 to Year 4 and size four for Year 5 to Year 9. It should be safe and made of leather or other suitable material.

LAW 3

NUMBER OF PLAYERS

Maximum number per team, including goalkeeper
Year 2 and Year 3	5v5
Year 4 and Year 5	7v7

Year 6 children are permitted to play 9v9 but the recommendation is they play 7v7 in primary schools (as Year 5 children cannot play 9v9).

If a primary school can only put down one pitch due to availability of grass space, install a 60x40 for Years 4 to Year 6 to use.

The above table indicates the maximum number of players per team at that age group. If the competition would like to have smaller numbers, e.g. 4v4 at Year 5, this is allowed within this framework.

A match may not START if either team consists of fewer than four players in a 5v5 and five players in a 7v7 match.

The minimum number of players in a team required for a match to CONTINUE is also four for a 5v5 match and five players for a 7v7 match.

Matches can begin with uneven sides, e.g. 5v4, but the importance and ethos of Mini-Soccer should be upheld wherever possible and the development of the children should come before the score line.

Players must play with and against players only from their own age range, as per Football Association and Competition rules. However, please see the Standard Code of Youth Rules as this means in most cases there is a two year age band in place.

Each team must have a squad no greater than double the size of the team per age.

Any number of substitutes, without being named, may be used at any time with the permission of the referee. A player who has been replaced may return to the playing area as a substitute for another player.

All team members should receive equal playing time where possible, with a best practice recommendation of at least 50% per player for each game.

LAW 4

PLAYING EQUIPMENT

Players must wear shin guards and goalkeepers must wear a distinguishing playing strip. Shin guards must be covered entirely by the socks. Players must wear the appropriate clothing dependant on the weather.

Correct footwear must be worn for the surface of the pitch, e.g. no metal studs on artificial grass pitches.

LAW 5 REFEREES

The Authority of the Referee

Each match is controlled by a referee who has full authority to enforce the Laws for Mini-Soccer in connection with the match to which they have been appointed.

Furthermore, referees should also recognise their role is to facilitate learning of the players, for example, allow young children to take a second attempt at a throw-in if the first is not within the Laws.

LAW 6 ASSISTANT REFEREE

Assistant referees are not required.

LAW 7 DURATION OF THE GAME

In any one day, no player shall play more than:

- 40 minutes for Year 2 and 3
- 60 minutes for Year 5
- 100 minutes for Year 6

It is the responsibility of the teacher, parent/ carer and organisation to ensure the child does not exceed this.

Each school will determine its own playing time within the maximum time permitted, however the maximum duration will be:

Age Group	Match Times
Year 2 and Year 3	2 x 20 minutes
Year 4 and Year 5	2 x 25 minutes
Year 6	2 x 30 minutes

It is permitted during friendly matches that the periods of play can be split into equal quarters.

The half time interval must not exceed five

LAW 8

START AND RESTART OF PLAY

Procedure

A kick-off is taken at the centre of the playing area to start the game and after a goal has been scored. Opponents must be five yards away from the ball and in their own half of the field. The ball must be played forward. In Mini-Soccer a goal cannot be scored directly from a start or restart of play.

Special Circumstances

A dropped ball to restart the match, after play has been temporarily stopped inside the penalty area, takes place on the penalty area line parallel to the goal line at the point nearest to where the ball was located when the play stopped. No goal can be scored direct from a dropped ball.

LAW 9

BALL IN AND OUT OF PLAY

Normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football.

LAW 10

METHOD OF SCORING

Normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football.

LAW 11

OFFSIDE

There is no offside.

LAW 12 FOULS AND MISCONDUCT

Normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football. However, in Mini-Soccer all free kicks are direct. A free kick is awarded to the opposing team if the goalkeeper:

- takes more than six seconds to release the ball from his/her hands
- touches the ball again with his/her hands after it has been released from his/her possession and has not touched any other player
- touches the ball with his/her hands after it has been deliberately kicked to him/her by a team mate
- touches the ball with his/her hands after he/she has received it directly from a throw in taken by a team mate.

For all these offences, the free kick should be taken from the penalty area line, parallel with the goal line, at the nearest point to the offence.

LAW 13 FREE KICKS

For all free kicks opponents must be five yards from the ball.

Normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football.

In addition, Year 2 and Year 3 children are permitted to roll the ball underarm with one or both hands into the field of play.

The role of the referee is to also allow young players to learn the game. This may involve letting players take throw-ins again, if incorrect technique is used. The referee should ensure the same player attempts a second time, with guidance and help from the match official.

LAW 16

GOAL KICK

Opponents must retreat to their own half until the ball is in play.

The defending team does not have to wait for the opposition to retreat and has the option to restart the game before should they choose to.

The ball is in play when it is kicked directly out the penalty area.

LAW 17

CORNER KICKS

The opposing players must remain at least five yards from the ball until it is in play.

THE FA LAWS FOR 9V9 FOOTBALL

This guide provides the Laws for Under 11 and Under 12 versions of the game, with children playing a maximum of 9v9. These Laws are also appropriate for other age groups playing 9v9 football.

Whilst it is permissible for Year 6s to play 9v9, this format cannot include Year 5s and it is therefore recommended that Year 6s play 7v7.

Please remember

From season 2015/16 Year 6s are not permitted to play in leagues where results are collected or published or winner trophies are presented.

This is deemed to be detrimental to the development of the player and the game and will not be sanctioned.

Year 6s can play in a maximum of three trophy events during the season, lasting a maximum of six weeks each. These are short-term experiences helping children learn about winning and losing in an appropriate environment.

The winners of these events can be published and trophies can be presented.

Except where other provision in these Laws is made, the Laws of Association Football apply. Each Law is numbered to correspond with the appropriate Law of the Game. These Laws are mandatory unless special permission is granted by The FA.

LAW 1

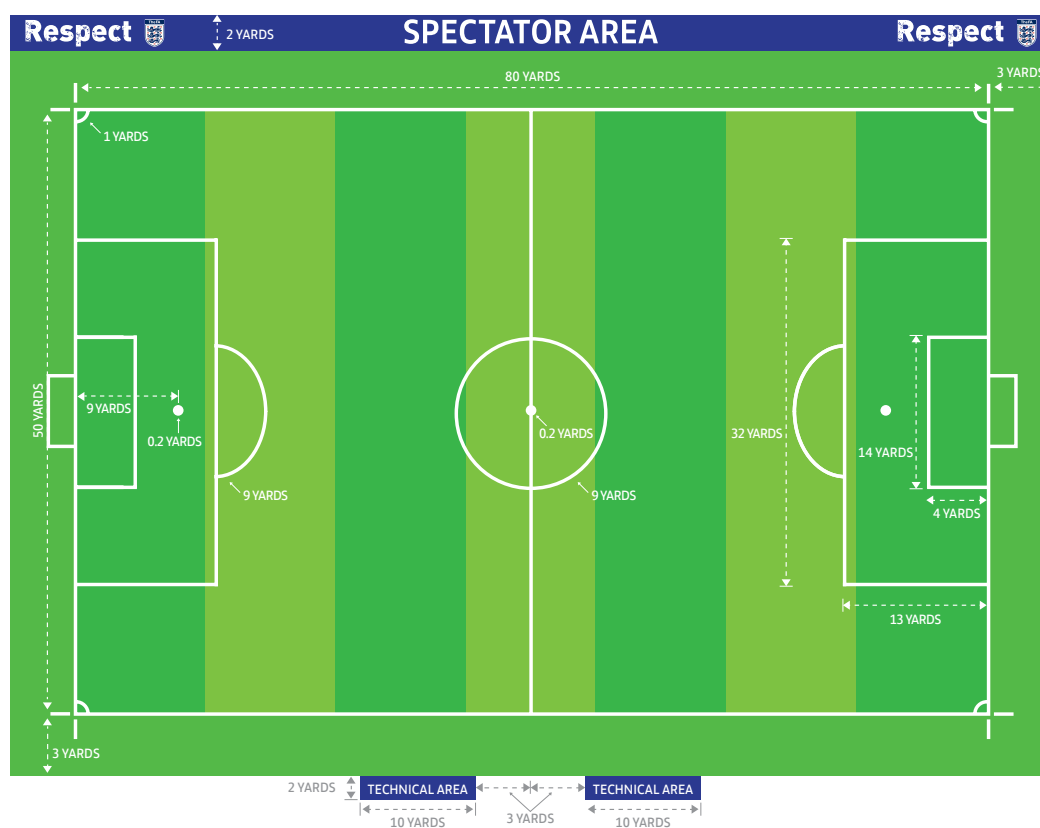

PLAYING AREA

Halfway Line

The field of play is divided into two halves by a halfway line. The centre mark is indicated at the mid-point of the halfway line.

Goal Size

The distance between the posts is either 16ft or 21ft and the distance between the lower edge of the cross bar and the ground is 7ft.

LAW 2

THE BALL

The ball should be size four for Year 5 to Year 9. It should be safe and made of leather or other suitable material.

LAW 3

NUMBER OF PLAYERS

Maximum number per team, including goalkeeper
Year 6 and Year 7	9v9

It is recommended that Primary Schools at Year 6 play 7v7 and, if they can only put one pitch down on their field, use a 60x40 yards pitch. The above table indicates the maximum number of players per team at that age group.

If the competition would like to have smaller numbers, e.g. 7v7 at Year 6 or Year 7, this is allowed within this framework. A match may not START if either team consists of fewer than six players. The minimum number of players in a team required for a match to CONTINUE is also six.

Should a team fall below this, normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football. Players must play with and against players only from their own age range, as per Football Association and Competition rules.

Each team must have a squad no greater than double the size of the team per age.

Any number of substitutes may be used at any time with the permission of the referee. A player who has been replaced may return to the playing area as a substitute for another player.

All team members should receive equal playing time where possible, with a best practice recommendation of at least 50% per player for each game.

For all other substitution rules, normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football.

LAW 4

PLAYING EQUIPMENT

Players must wear shin guards and goalkeepers must wear a distinguishing playing strip. Shin guards must be covered entirely by the socks. Players must wear the appropriate clothing dependant on the weather.

Correct footwear must be worn for the surface of the pitch, e.g. no metal studs on artificial grass pitches.

LAW 5

REFEREES

The Authority of the Referee

Each match is controlled by a referee who has full authority to enforce the Laws for 9v9 Football in connection with the match to which they have been appointed.

The powers and duties of the referee are as normal rules apply, as per Laws of Association Football.

LAW 6

ASSISTANT REFEREE

Two assistant referees may be appointed whose duties, subject to the decision of the referee, are to indicate:

- When the whole of the ball leaves the field of play
- Which team is entitled to a corner kick, goal kick or throw-in
- When a player may be penalised for being in an offside position
- When a substitution is requested
- When misconduct or any other incident occurs out of the view of the referee
- When offences have been committed whenever the assistant referees have a better view than the referee (this includes, in certain circumstances, offences committed in the penalty area)
- Whether, at penalty kicks, the goalkeeper moves off the goal line before the ball is kicked and if the ball crosses the line.

GOALPOST SAFETY

The FA, along with the Department for Culture, Media and Sport, the Health and Safety Executive and the British Standards Institution, would like to draw your attention to the following guidelines for the safe use of goalposts.

Several serious injuries and fatalities have occurred in recent years as a result of unsafe or incorrect use of goalposts. Safety is always of paramount importance and everyone in football must play their part to prevent similar incidents occurring in the future.

1. For safety reasons goalposts of any size (including those which are portable and not installed permanently at a pitch or practice field) must always be anchored securely to the ground or have a weighted back bar.
 - Portable goalposts must be secured as per the manufacturer's instructions; this is also a requirement for the Laws of the Game
 - Under no circumstances should children or adults be allowed to climb on, swing or play with the structure of the goalposts
 - Particular attention is drawn to the fact that if not properly assembled and secured, portable goalposts may overturn
 - Regular inspections of goalposts must be carried out to check that they are properly maintained.
2. Portable goalposts should not be left in place after use. They should be either dismantled or removed to a place of secure storage, or placed together and suitable fixings applied to prevent unauthorised use at any time.
3. The use of metal cup hooks on any part of a goal frame was banned from the commencement of season 2007-08 and match officials have been instructed not to commence matches where such net fixings are evident for safety reasons. Nets may be secured by plastic fixings, arrow head shaped plastic hooks or tape and not by metal cup hooks. Any metal cup hooks should be removed and replaced. New goalposts should not be purchased if they include metal cup hooks.
4. Goalposts which are "homemade" or which have been altered from their original size or construction should not be used under any circumstances as they potential pose a serious safety risk.
5. There is no BS/CEN standard for wooden goals and it is unlikely that wooden goals will pass a load or stability test. All wooden goals previously tested by independent consultants have failed strength and stability tests. The FA recommends that wooden goals should be replaced with compliant metal, aluminium or UPVC goalposts (this was updated in March 2012).

For reference, you should note that The FA and BSI, in conjunction with the industry, have developed standards for goalposts – BSEN 748 (2004) and BS8461:2005+A1:2009. BS 8462:2005+A2:2012 was updated in March 2012. It is strongly recommended that you ensure that all goals purchased comply with the relevant standard. A Code of Practice BS 8461 has also been completed and copies of all of these standards are available from the BSI via their website at www.bsigroup.com

Funding for the replacement of unsafe goals is available via the Football Foundation and eligibility criteria and further details can be obtained from their website at www.footballfoundation.org.uk

The FA together with representatives from the industry, sports governing bodies and Government have prepared guidance notes for pitch users and pitch providers, which summarise the key priorities of the BSI's Code of Practice and provide further details on the information included above. These details are featured within the facilities section of The FA's website at www.TheFA.com/my-football

THE FUTURE GAME

The FA Coaching Philosophy and Vision

The launch of The Future Game, The FA Technical Guide for Young Player Development, in 2010, outlined a philosophy and vision for player development in English football.

Central to the message are the principles of creativity and innovation, for both coaches and players, and a vision for playing the game based on quality passing, possession and building play through the three-thirds of the pitch.

The guide, the first of its kind since The FA's Coaching Book of Soccer Tactics and Skills published in 1991, provided a response to widely agreed opinion that at the highest level of the men's game, English players had fallen behind their global counterparts with regards to technical competence and decision-making capability.

Statistics backed up this notion. Other than success at the U17 and U18 European Championships in 2010 and 1993, England had not won an international competition, at any level, since the World Cup in 1966.

Other factors also contributed to the necessity of a refreshed vision.

With the onset of the Premier League and the significant influence of foreign coaches and players, the landscape and culture of English football has changed dramatically since the early 1990s. European and International football – the arena in which young English players must compete - had accelerated too.

Addressing this cultural shift, The Future Game champions the development of better coaches.

Each layer of the game, from the grassroots to the elite, must be populated with excellent teachers of the game who possess the appropriate attributes to positively affect the players and teams with which they work.

Dedication to specialisation is central. Players who are learning the game require support and guidance at each step along the player pathway, with coach effectiveness judged by the ability to make the game relevant and realistic to the age and stage of the players or team.

IN SUMMARY

The Future Game headlines:

- The value of technique
English coaches must add a greater importance and value to the development of technique and skill.
- Innovative teachers of the game
The best coaches are the best teachers. Effective coaches understand the individuals in their care and have an understanding and awareness of their age, stage of development/ learning and their abilities.
- A clear playing philosophy based on:
 - A possession-based approach
 - Playing through the three-thirds of the pitch
 - Quality of passing
 - Intelligent movement and support off the ball
 - Penetrative/incisive attacking play
 - Counter-attacking.
- One strand: a view through the whole game
To develop players that can perform at the highest stage, coaches at all levels of the game should understand what characteristics lead to high-class performance.

The Future Game philosophy underpins the content of all future FA course provision.

*The original Future Game document had a clear and defined target audience: the boys'/men's professional game.

However, to prompt change at the top of the pyramid, a fresh approach was also required at the grassroots.

As a result, The Future Game grassroots guide followed the elite version in December 2010. The grassroots version of the document had a wider appeal providing guidance for both male and female players aged 5-21.
